Dear Valued Customer,

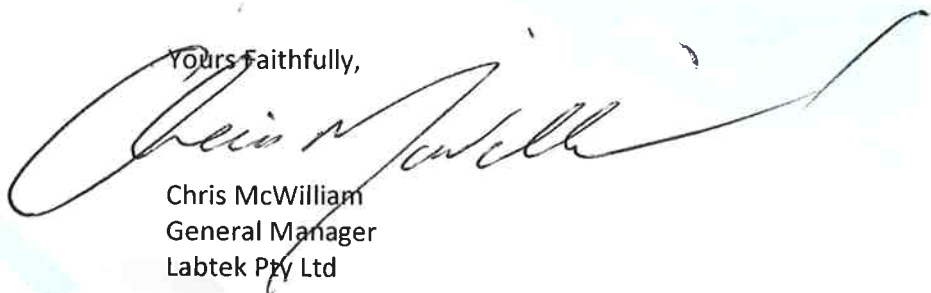

We are proud to launch our newly improved and updated website. Behind the scene we have been busy working on the release of our new website. Designed with your everyday enquiries in mind we have improved and added a range of features. But what's new?

- Faster product searches
- Increased search options, now incorporating product code, description, keyword and category (Note: description searches can be limited by the category).
- Online quotation request
- E-Commerce now available at your request

We hope these new features enhance your Labtek Online experience. Keep posted, we are currently working on new developments which will be released soon.

Suggestions and comments are welcomed and encouraged, please forward all feedback to chris@labtek.com.au

Yours Faithfully,

Chris McWilliam
